This image shows a single sheet of cream-colored paper with vertical red ruling lines. The paper has a slightly aged appearance. In the top left corner, there are handwritten marks in dark ink or pencil. The first column from the left contains a '6' written above a '4'. The second column contains a '6' written above an 'X'. The rest of the page is blank except for the ruling lines.

This image shows a single sheet of cream-colored paper with vertical red ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run from top to bottom. There are faint, illegible markings on the paper, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side or very light pencil marks. The paper appears slightly aged or off-white.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, particularly towards the bottom right. On the right side, there is a vertical strip of red binding material, possibly a hinge or spine reinforcement, which is slightly raised from the page. The overall tone is warm and vintage.
